a Students must complete required courses with a grade of B or better.

b The department advises students to take both COMM 502 and COMM 503.

• Specialization: Students must develop expertise in one or more specialized subfields of communication. Specialties reflect the organization of the discipline in scholarly societies as well as the current interests and strengths of department faculty. Courses in one or more allied discipline are necessary for most specializations, and students normally take two courses in specific research techniques related to their chosen specialty.

• Examinations
  • Departmental Qualifying Examination: None.
  • Preliminary Examination: Required; three calendar years after admission or upon completion of 40 semester hours (whichever comes first).

• Dissertation Required.

Interdepartmental Concentrations

Students earning a graduate degree in this department may complement their courses by enrolling in select concentrations after consulting with their graduate advisor. Interdepartmental concentrations available for this degree include:

• Black Studies
• Gender and Women's Studies
• Latin American and Latino Studies
• Survey Research Methodology
