The Jane Addams College of Social Work offers a Certificate in Evidence-Based Mental Health Practice with Children approved by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE). Only students admitted to the MSW program and enrolled in the Mental Health specialization are eligible to apply for admission to this certificate program. The certificate program offers students in their specialization year who have a career interest in working with children with mental health issues advanced training in evidence-based practice with children with mental health problems.

For more information on this program, admission requirements, and the application process, please consult the Jane Addams College of Social Work website.

The IBHE-Approved Certificate in Evidence-Based Mental Health Practice with Children at UIC is considered a professional program and is not administered by the Graduate College.

Admission Requirements

- Students are eligible to apply for the certificate program in the year before the fall of their specialization year. Applications will be made available through the JACSW student Listserv.
- Students will be selected for the program based on a review of their original JACSW application materials, a written statement, their training program application, past experience, their interest in working in child and adolescent mental health, their fall semester field evaluation, and review of their transcripts, including fall semester grades. After an initial screening of applications, some students will be interviewed and references will be contacted, including the current field instructor.
- Applicants are rated in each of these areas and decisions about admission are based on these areas and the fit of the applicant with available field placements in child mental health.
- Applicants must plan to be enrolled in the MSW Mental Health Specialization for consideration in the certificate program.

Program Requirements

• Minimum Required Hours 17

- In addition to the Mental Health specialization coursework, students in the certificate program have a field placement in one of several specially selected mental health agencies committed to using evidence-based practice to treat children with mental health issues.
